IS THIS THE ONLY WORLD WE LIVE IN?

DO WE LIVE IN A FUTURISTIC WORLD OR THIS ONE?

DOES OUR IMAGINATION HAVE A REALITY?

DO YOU HAVE TO BE OUT-OF-BODY TO WITNESS THE FUTURE?

WHAT IS LIFE AND WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

DOES THE YEAR 2012 HOLD ANY DANGERS?

DO MY BOOKS CONTAIN PREDICTIONS?

I sit alone and write. The white monitor in front of my eyes is suddenly filled with words and conversations. After a few hours I begin to read what is written. I am quite amazed at what I see. Where did this storyline originate? Alright, I already had the main characters because I have written four previous novels in the series and I know how they react with each other. Is this part of the story from my imagination alone or am I channelling? Years ago as a young man in the Royal Air Force in Scotland I had a garish dream showing an aircraft crash landing on Dava moor with no loss of life as the crew quickly evacuated as the plane burned. It seemed so real that I blurted it out to colleagues as I awoke. Their derision was immediate although jocular. Eighteen months later I had left the air force and was living four hundred miles away when the local Scottish paper was mailed to me. The headlines – Aircraft lands on Dava moor- crew all safe. (Documented in my ebook - Psychic Thinker.) It all seemed so unreal, yet there it was in black and white.

I had been taken eighteen months into the future and shown an event that was near to miraculous. I have had other dreams throughout my life but non as sensational as that. As part of a psychic group that met once a week a few other strange events happened. In meditation I saw quite a few times the scaled heads of reptilian type humanoids circling around me and then another future event. I always keep an open mind but someone was trying to tell me that although I am in a physical existence there was more to life than I knew.

So, in 2003 sitting once again in front of my computer writing the third book, (Soulgate-temple of souls - published in May 2005), the words started to form across the monitor. As the plot unfurled I was in a world that was ravished by financial upheaval caused by psychic phenomena that threw the planet into chaos and that was only a small part of the story. A financial collapse then happened in 2008. A different scenario of today but similar effects. When writing there are days when the story is coming together in the mind and nothing is on the screen. Then suddenly words appear as if by magic from the mind induced from an unknown source. Some psychics have called it channelling and most of the time it does not make sense just the formation of an idea. There is no time scale to a thought or a dream, there is only time in physical existence. I think that it is impossible to create a time prediction or scale of any future events.

The fourth The fourth book (Divine fanaticism. Oct 2010) is based on another future world that seems to have a religious theme in a world where extremists are gaining control subverting democracy and leading to the development of a back-pack atomic bomb. The way the bomb and the perpetrators penetrate the countries defenses is revealed. I sincerely hope that there are no future connotations to be interpreted from this book. Could we all be looking at a future event? How could the authorities stop this

For the past 12 months whilst writing the fifth book – Battle of the Archangels I have been partially Jim Long astral space agent living in a different reality. Somehow I have been there sensing and feeling the various and profound realms of the astral. I would like to be him – he is above malice, jealousy, hate, although as a human all these things are still contained within his persona something he has to fight to conquer each day. He can be fun loving with lots of laughter and he can be deep and profound in his thinking. He is a future detective fighting evil in the physical and astral dimensions. The astral is a world of great beauty where spiritual entities live and dwell, some in a mirror body of the physical, others in streams of light and shade. It is all created and held together by majestic high creatures of light. We are all made from ethereal essence and do not really die only our bodies have departed from the physical world for in truth we are all celestial, collective and individual. The area is as vast as space itself with the ethereal and physical worlds all coexisting on different frequencies, the two to never mix. Angels and Archangels watching over the magical landscape display a white heavenly glowing light around them. In the astral world the most heavenly and wondrous sections glistens with the most remarkable colours imaginable. There are other places that are dark and formidable held together by tortured souls that manifest the most miserable of existences.
